Why Vroozi?

In today's work environment, the physical and digital, as well as consumer and professional worlds are blending. At Vroozi, we are passionate about building innovation to drive procurement productivity for everyone, increase adoption, and reduce costs for companies. We focus on bringing value and delight to procurement professionals, suppliers, and anyone who makes purchases on behalf of the company, through intuitive shopping experience, intelligent process embedded technology, and accessibility via any device. From mid-size growing businesses and Fortune 1000 enterprises, our customers trust Vroozi.

1-Click Order

Default company and personal values are stored securely to enable 1-Click ordering.

Dynamic Procurement Marketplace

Collaborative commerce between buyers and suppliers with enriched online catalogs to increase spend under management.

100% Mobile

Blurring separation between physical and digital to allow productivity when you want.

Ensure Compliance

Templates, audit trails, business rules, and master data enforce compliance without memorizing the rules.

Approval Workflow

Set up your approval process based on your business needs so requests are routed intelligently in the backend.

No Installation | No Downtime

100% SaaS multi-tenant infrastructure with 24x7 site operation and monitoring to leverage performance and scalability.

Comprehensive Insight

Personal and Company statistics provide real-time insight while dashboards and reporting allow you to drill down into details.

Seamless Integration

ERP adaptors and master data enable automatic handshakes with financial, ERP, and SaaS systems without manual interaction.

No Training Required

Familiar consumer shopping experience with business process embedded within the technology makes training obsolete.

Getting Started

How much does it cost? Vroozi pricing is completely straightforward: a flat monthly subscription fee + one time setup fee. No supplier cost, no transaction fee, nothing is hidden.

How long does it take to implement? Your Vroozi instance can be up and running within a day. Our service team will assist you with the set-up and system integration, and guide you through the initial supplier on-boarding process. Super-users will be given training with on-going educational webinars when new features roll out.

What if we have an existing legacy procurement solution or an ERP system? People often stop using their procurement solution because it's too complicated and takes too much time. Shopping should be simple. Some of our customers have added Vroozi as a front-end to their existing procurement solution. Others have saved millions in licensing and maintenance fees by switching some of their users to the Vroozi platform. For customers with an ERP system, they can easily connect Vroozi to their backend via an ERP adaptor, allowing financial and material information to stay in-sync real-time.

Going Forward

Hassle-free upkeep – The flat monthly subscription fee covers usage, maintenance, upgrade, and support. Your IT team can have their weekend back!
